

U1 is a 4bit MCU, it gets temperature information from thermistor R4. Then the MCU converts the raw data into digital data, then outputs it to the lcd for display, and also outputs the temperature data to the transmit module.

The transmit module is a 433mhz carrier oscillator, it will send the signal about every 10 seconds to a remote temperature receiver.